

Thank you QVMC

There are no words to express our gratitude to the Quincy Medical Center staff and ambulance personnel for the gift of a husband, father, grandfather, brother, uncle and friend that you have given us. When you responded to Bob Smith's emergency on May 4, you saved his life.

The initial response from your paramedics, the exemplary team of Brian Williamson and Mel Lutz, to the Hospital ER staff, particularly Dr. Himmel and RN Rebecca, made this very frightening experience an amazing lifesaving event. We were not aware of exactly how lucky the Quincy community is to have such a skilled team of professionals who recognized the immediate need for the institution of a lifesaving clot-busting drug that ultimately saved Bob's life. The Central Washington ER staff and cardiac doctors have credited the Quincy ER team (including the paramedics) for saving Bob's life. Thank you so much Quincy Valley Medical Center. We will forever appreciate you.
